STOUGHTON UTILITIES CELEBRATES PUBLIC POWER

Each year, Stoughton Utilities holds a Public Power Week event that highlights the benefits that “public power” brings to the utility, its customers, and the City of Stoughton.

This year, Stoughton Utilities will be celebrating with a family-friendly trivia contest. Customers can participate by answering questions to determine the “secret code word.” Customers who submit the completed trivia form will receive a $10 bill credit on their November utility bill, and will also be entered to win a $200 gift card. Customers can also receive an extra chance to win a $200 gift card by completing the Bonus Photo Prompt. Full details and the trivia forms can be found in the September utility bills, or online at stoughtonutilities.com.

Public power refers to the fact that the City of Stoughton owns and operates the not-for-profit utility to provide reliable electricity to homes and businesses. Local employees provide quick responses when issues arise and assistance with identifying energy-saving improvements. Public power utilities like Stoughton Utilities are supported by customer revenues, not taxes, and provide substantial payments in lieu of taxes to local governments to help keep local economies strong.

“Because we are owned by our customers rather than shareholders, we can focus on local priorities such as helping to sponsor economic development efforts, support high school scholarships, and participate in local events,” said Assistant Stoughton Utilities Director Brian Hoops. “In honor of Public Power Week, we like to give back to all of our customers with a special event.

Public Power Week is celebrated across the country every year during the first full week of October. The event honors the more than 2,000 communities served by a locally owned not-for-profit public power utility. For more information about the event, call the Stoughton Utilities office at (608) 873-3379, or visit <https://www.stoughtonutilities.com>.

What Makes Public Power Utilities Unique?

Most public power utilities are owned by a city or town, ranging from small villages to large metropolitan cities. They are governed by either a city council or independently elected/appointed board. Above all, they are accountable to the people they serve. Community citizens have a direct and powerful voice in utility decisions and policies. Public power utilities are not-for-profit, locally-owned and operated, and usually lower cost than private utilities.
